TWO RED SOX IN THE GAMES

By MERTON E. BURKE.

American Correspondent on "Red Sox" Coast-to-Coast Tour.
LOS ANGELES, March 4.—Well, the Red Sox and the Angels try out that postponed game to-day. It's a double subject to brush out here, but must insert here that yesterday's evening diversion in a penultimate run, after the weather, it was not a bad one.

Merton E. Burke. It rained harder than the Red Sox boys ever saw it rain before. There was nothing left to do but stay in the hotel or put on a bathing suit and go down to the bath house for a swim. You could swim down the hill to the bath if you wanted to, but so far as known, no one did.

The rapid got as much exercise as possible indoors. Some got writers' cramp from addressing picture postal cards. Others have had some good luck and found on a table, indications are that considerable of it has gone out of circulation.

Harry Currier investigated several makes of Western cars. "They're got nothing on American for coaches," he concluded, after serious inquiry.

Jack O'Brien is endeavoring to form a new quartet, since two of the regular members went North. He isn't being paid for his efforts.

Baseball, the 210-pounder, whom President Taylor captured on a hill, is now in the city. He is wearing himself up in a roll of cotton flannel, and has taken of twelve pounds. His favorite diversion is a penultimate run, after the weather, it was not a bad one.

One of the bright young men—might have been Martin McVie, though I won't swear to it, as the story has been garbled—put one over on the waiter.

"Have you any oysters here?" he asked the waiter. "No, unless it's on the table," replied the young steward who nudged the chair.

Weather—good for ducks.

Red Sox Play at Frisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 4.—The Red Sox Regulars play here to-day; that is, if the weather clears up. This morning it looked as if there would be no game out at the park, but as the rain has a habit of coming all of a sudden, there is a possibility that there may be a chance for baseball this afternoon.

Thus far California's glorious climate has not lived up to its reputation. It has proved to be almost as bad as back in the day, where a good day is lost among the clouds.

This morning the sky was some gloomier by big dark clouds, but still the weather forecast said that there was a possible chance that it would clear up. Thus you know, weather forecasters have been known to make some pretty bad predictions.

If it does not clear up this afternoon the game called for today will be played tomorrow. Sunday is a good day for football here, and a big crowd should be out to see the Red Sox out on the field. It's a million to one that they will.

SOUND FIRE ALARM TO FIND LOST MAN

SPRINGFIELD, March 4.—A fire alarm sounded early in the fire department brought on the entire town in a search for George Munster Ford, a sixty-year-old man, who, after wandering half-dressed for three hours, was found in a state of exhaustion. He was turned in to his home. Mr. Ford formerly was a shooting lodge on Lake Umbagog and is known to be a man of considerable means. He has been suffering from general debility.

FAST TROLLEY CAR CRASHES INTO WALL

WORCESTER, March 4.—A street car going north on the corner of Upland and Providence streets last night, about two feet from the curb, crashed into a stone wall 150 feet away. The motorcar, containing the sole passenger, a woman, and a child, was taken from the building and taken to the hospital. The woman and child were taken to the hospital. The motorcar was taken from the building and taken to the hospital.

SENATOR BAILEY OF TEXAS, WHO HAS RESIGNED

WASHINGTON, March 4.—The Sixty-first Congress passed into history at noon amid scenes of turbulence unparalleled in a decade.

The most sensational incident of the day was the resignation from the Senate of Bailey of Texas as a result of the filibuster against the New Mexico statehood bill conducted by Owen of Oklahoma.

As soon as Congress had adjourned an announcement was made at the White House that President Taft would issue a call for a special session of the Sixty-second Congress this afternoon.

Following his hour with the speaker followed in the evening session, Senator Bailey issued a statement by announcing that he had resigned from the Senate.

He presented his resignation to the Vice President, and said he would at once withdraw from the Senate.

The resignation of Bailey was a surprise to many, as he had been expected to remain in the Senate until the end of the session.

His resignation was a result of the filibuster against the New Mexico statehood bill, which had been conducted by Owen of Oklahoma.

Senator Bailey had been a member of the Senate since 1907, and had been a member of the House of Representatives since 1903.

SENATOR BAILEY OF TEXAS, WHO HAS RESIGNED

WASHINGTON, March 4.—The Sixty-first Congress passed into history at noon amid scenes of turbulence unparalleled in a decade.

MISS WETHERBEE IS BRIDE TO-DAY

A pretty though very quiet wedding is that little affair at a house of Miss Mary Loring, daughter of Arthur Board, and Arthur Board Jones, which is celebrated in the city of our home at Longwood. The marriage is one of the first of the season.

The bride is the third youngest daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Wetherbee of Beacon street. She is exceedingly attractive, being a tall slender girl with beautiful blonde coloring and is an especially handsome bride. Her only attendants are Mrs. Edward Sturtevant of Newport, who is matron of honor, with the groom is attended by his cousin, Frederick H. Jones of Rochester, N. Y., as best man. The group of ushers include Arthur Board, a cousin of the bride; Thomas Andrews of Philadelphia; H. Walter Jones, a cousin of the bride; and Arthur Board, a cousin of the bride.

It is a delightful and most interesting ceremony. The bride is given away by her father, who is assisted by her mother. The bride is given away by her father, who is assisted by her mother.

Another wedding to-day of much interest is that of John D. Jones, of Boston, and Miss Olive Fitzgerald of Boston, which takes place at the home of the bride's uncle in Greenfield, N. H. The affair is to be a very elaborate one, and the bride is given away by her father, who is assisted by her mother.

TO BRING SEPARATE SUITS FOR SHAW TAXES

As a result of a decision handed down by the full bench of the Supreme Court today, the cities of Boston and Jersey and the towns of Milton and Brookline must bring separate suits at law to recover taxes amounting to $400,000 which it is estimated will be paid by the state of the United States. The full bench of the Supreme Court today handed down its decision in the case of the cities of Boston and Jersey and the towns of Milton and Brookline. The decision is a landmark one, and it is estimated that it will cost the cities of Boston and Jersey and the towns of Milton and Brookline $400,000 to bring separate suits at law to recover taxes amounting to $400,000 which it is estimated will be paid by the state of the United States.

GIRLS FROM CONNOR

Allie Lawrence, also known as Allie Brown, twenty-two years of age, who is staying at the City Hospital from poison she swallowed, her fiancé says, after he had married her in a quiet, even religious ceremony.

To the police, who questioned her after she had regained consciousness for a few moments at the hospital, the girl said she had bought the poison and drunk it, because "Pat was going with another girl." Later on the young woman declared she had not taken the poison and was in the habit of eating her food and that she had not any reason for committing suicide. She said she had been in the habit of using a weak solution of carbolic acid every day to clean her teeth. She said that she had been in the habit of using a weak solution of carbolic acid every day to clean her teeth.

In about ten minutes, Miss Lawrence returned to Monahan, and asked him what he meant by being so kind to her and her friends. Monahan said he gave her a "good talking" for letting a strange woman in his room at such an hour and told her she had better "go with such assistance." She said nothing in reply, but suddenly arose from the chair on which she had been sitting near the bed and said:

Won't Be With You Long. "Well, I'm going home. I won't be with you long."

Then, Monahan says, the girl slipped into a small sink and disappeared. She was supposed to get a drink of water. She returned in a moment or two, but instead of going out, she leaned on a couch.

Monahan says her silence startled him and he jumped out of bed and went over her, supposing she was "sinking." He found her lying on the floor, and she was unconscious. Then, Monahan says, the girl slipped into a small sink and disappeared.

Who Was There Whom You Knew

IN the shadowy ranks of those who marched to defeat or death or victory fifty years ago in the mighty conflict that convulsed this great nation, is there father or grandfather or uncle of yours? Would you like to see a photograph of his in that long ago day of his youth—a photograph that he never knew was taken? Perhaps we can show you one; and in any case, we can tell you a story stranger than any detective fiction, of 3,500 priceless photographs that were lost and are found again.

3,500 Long Buried Photographs of the Civil War

THEY were taken by the greatest photographer in the United States that day; they were bought by the United States Government for $27,840; they were buried in the War Department for 50 years—they are buried there still. But a duplicate set was kept by the photographer—who died poor and broken down; that duplicate set was knocked from pillar to post for nearly 50 years, until it was discovered by a New England collector. General Grant saw these pictures taken; General Greeley and General Benj. F. Butler valued them at $150,000—yet with the help of the REVIEW OF REVIEWS, the entire collection has been gathered into to great volumes and is placed within the reach of every American home, at less than the price of four of the photographs. It is the one accurate, impartial history of the Civil War—for the camera cannot lie; it tells the story of the War you never heard before. Taken under the protection of the Secret Service, these photographs bring to light thousands of little known phases of the war; they penetrate to strange places; and record strange things.

'DICKIE BIRD' IN MAN'S HEAD

"Cheer up, Dickie bird. Here is the hospital and the doctor will fix your poor broken leg," said Elmer E. Vink, as he stumbled into the lodge at the City Hospital, holding an expanded envelope close to his ear. Patrolman Jim Conant of the East 128th street station and Orderly Grillo looked up with an air of expectancy.

"Where is the doctor?" queried Vink. "Poor little Dickie bird has broken his leg and we want to get it fixed. Don't you, Dickie?"

"Yes, but I'm not making the envelope," Grillo said.

"Did you hear him say that?" Conant looked at the envelope in astonishment and then said to Grillo, "Did you

"No," replied Grill.
"You'd better come with me," and Conant to Vink, and the latter, still whispering to "Dickie Bird," accompanied the big policeman across the grounds into the hospital.
"Let me see Dickie Bird," said Dr.
James Munary, as he took the envelope from Vink's hand. The doctor opened the envelope and a piece of lint fluttered to the floor.
"I think we will hold Mr. Vink here for observation," said Dr. Munary.

Mr. Dingbat Expected Something to Drop, and It Did

By Herriman

BOXER UPRISING IS THREATENED

ST. PETERSBURG, March 4.—Reports received here from Makino tell of growing anti-foreign agitation in Manchuria and rumors of a probable Boer uprising. According to the reports, the far eastern newspapers are urging their governments to take measures for protection of their subjects in the affected districts.

LATEST JEWELRY PADS.
What they are and what you should wear. Learn it from the splendidly illustrated article in the Sunday AMERICAN.

YOU CAN BE FREE FROM BAD COLDS OR GRIPPE MISERY IN FEW HOURS.

There is not one grain of quinine in Pape's Cold Compound, which, when taken every two hours, until three consecutive doses are taken, will surely end the grippe and break up the most severe cold, either in the head, chest, back, stomach or limbs. It promptly relieves the most miserable neuralgia pains, headache, dizziness, head and nose stuffed up, feverishness, sneezing, sore throat, running of the nose, catarrhal affections, soreness, stiffness and rheumatic twinges.

Take this harmless Compound as directed, with the knowledge that there is no other medicine made anywhere else in the world which will cure your cold or end grippe misery as promptly and without any other assistance or bad after-effects as a 25-cent package of Pape's Cold Compound, which any druggist in the world can supply.

NEW YORK, March 4.—William Dineen, former head of the United States Street Corporation, called today on the O'Connell to join his wife, Isabelle Dineen O'Connell, the former actress, near Paris. Mr. Corey was asked if he was quitting the United States for good.

COREY SAILS TO REJOIN WIFE

"No, no," he said emphatically. "I am coming back in July. I am an American citizen and expect to remain one." Mr. Corey, head of the bureau of agriculture of Ireland, who has been studying conditions in the West, was an other passenger. Discerning reciprocity said: "I am in favor of reciprocity between the United States and Canada."

$15,000 SUIT BASED ON KISS

Nathan O. Kunitz, in amended specifications filed in his $15,000 damages suit against Leopold A. Loda of Vienna, says, "Dorchester, for the loss of his wife's affection, charges that Loda and Mrs. Kunitz were seen kissing each other."

MISS VINING TO FIGHT TO LIMIT

Miss Florentia Vining has filed it up again with these South Boston politicians, and Miss Florentia Vining, editor and publisher, didn't get the word of it. Also that attachment for $500, which former selector Herbert A. Tilden of Canton secured on her for the right to recover a note for that amount he claims is over due has thoroughly angered Miss Vining.

MEETING TO AID MRS. CUSUMANO

There will be a meeting of prominent Italian citizens of Boston at Colon Hall, No. 28 Cross street, at 2 o'clock to-morrow afternoon, to do all that can be accomplished in behalf of Mrs. Cusumano, who was convicted of the murder of her husband at the trial in Plymouth and is now in the shadow of the death sentence. Enrico Mancini was convicted of the same crime at the same time. Among the speakers at the meeting will be Aldermen Charles E. Lombardi, Charles Kelly, Jerome A. Pettit, and Frank V. Ford; Drs. E. A. Scatelli and Luigi P. Verde; and Messrs. S. R. Heston, Frank Campbell, F. V. Malgou, and E. De Manno. Attorney Joseph Lombardi will preside. The meeting is being held in the hall of the Museo d'Arte, which is the only Italian society in the State.

REUNITED BY AMERICAN AD

The above advertisement was inserted in the Information Wanted column of the West Ad page of the AMERICAN PATRONS 22 and brought glad news to the contributor, William Forrest of Woodford, Brookline. He found his brother, whom he had not seen for sixteen years, in the front of his own home, and he was very glad to see him. He was very glad to see him. He was very glad to see him.

PEOPLE WILL TALK.

And that's the reason why Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is advertised so little nowadays. It has made hundreds of thousands of cures in the past 40 years, and some of the grateful people who have been restored to health are to be found almost everywhere. There's scarcely a hamlet that doesn't contain some. Look them up. Interview them. They are living, walking, active advertisements for Dr. Pierce's Family Medicine.

BURY MAN AND WIFE IN SAME GRAVE

After thirty-four years of wedded life, Mr. and Mrs. George C. Harrington were re-united in the same grave in Woodlawn cemetery, Wellesley, Mass. Harrington died last Sunday, and was followed within fifteen hours by his wife, who died last night.

Business Success Through Publicity No. 69

Bygone Advertising

Some people consider advertising as a new method of selling. On the contrary, advertising is almost as old as print.

If you will take down your Spectator with its original advertisements, you will find it is really a photographic production of the business of the time of Addison, Steele, and Congreve, that all sorts of queer things are advertised in its pages.

Some of the advertisements are cut-and-dried business cards, just as they are today, and there are others which open the purse strings of the "toughest" wad.

It is interesting to see the keen business judgment that those old business men of the 18th century had. Tailors, barbers, all sorts and conditions of people that sold anything advertised.

There is no question but that the business enterprise of that 18th century English merchant had a marked effect upon the welfare of England and its business progress.

Take any country to-day, and the country whose merchants advertise their wares is generally the most prosperous. Consider the city of Worcester. Little after here in the city of Worcester advertise. If an examination of Worcester business interests were made, it would be found that the largest business in Worcester is the advertising business. The lines which do the most business in Worcester are the lines which do the most business in Worcester.

In fact, probably much of the prosperity of Worcester is due to the fact that so many different lines in Worcester advertise their goods. For years one of the great concerns of Worcester has been the name of Worcester from one end of the country to the other.

Some of the merchants of Worcester have been large users of newspaper space. They have been because they sell through the department stores. At any rate, the man who leaves out of his consideration the force of newspaper advertising is like a man who thinks over a market when he ought to cover it with the utmost care.

The New England market is because of its cosmopolitan character, its industrial class, and can be best covered by newspaper advertising. It is the kind of advertising which reaches the reader most frequently and with the most force. It is really the most economical form of advertising, because it is the most profitable form of advertising.

All of this however, it should be added, is not the fault of our modern day rich "art-lovers." They simply do not know what art is. But they do know art dealers. They are in business themselves, therefore they know a good art dealer when they see him, and they do the best they can by patronizing the art dealer.

Now it is to our Miss Anna Hempstead Branch that we apply the word great, a woman who bids fair to rank as the Mrs. Browning of America. One or two other notable women poets among us have her delicacy and fine technique; but Miss Branch's new book, "Rose of the Wind,"
